The DEV DEEPAWALI TOUR 2025

Dev Deepawali, also known as Tripurotsav or Tripurari Purnima, commemorates Lord Shiva's victory over the demon Tripurasura, celebrated with millions of lit lamps on the ghats of the Ganges in Varanasi, marking the triumph of good over evil.

Dev Deepawali, which falls 15 days after Diwali, is celebrated with great fervor in Varanasi, where the ghats of the Ganges are illuminated with millions of earthen lamps, a sight that is believed to be a divine spectacle.

The festival is also known as the "Diwali of the Gods" and is believed to be a time when celestial beings descend to Earth.

Devotees gather to take a holy dip in the sacred Ganges, known as "Kartik Snan," believing it washes away sins and brings prosperity.

Some also observe Dev Diwali as the birth anniversary of Lord Karthik, the God of War and son of Lord Shiva, or the day when Lord Vishnu incarnated in his first form, "Matsya".

This year the HOLY DEV DEEPAWALI will be celebrated in Varanasi on 5th of November 2025
