The Ramayana Trail in Sri Lanka is a journey through sacred sites linked to the epic Ramayana, including temples, gardens, and historical places connected to Lord Rama, Sita, Hanuman, and Ravana.

Temples and sites to be visited in this spiritual journey:

Muneshwaram A Hindu temple where Rama is said to have sought forgiveness for killing Ravana. and Manarari Temple considered a sacred place of worship, particularly for pilgrims following the Ramayana Trail, and is believed to be where Lord Rama installed the Shiva Lingam after the war with Ravana.

The Shri Shankari Shaktipeeth Koneswaram Temple, also known as the Shankari Devi Temple, is a revered Hindu temple in Trincomalee, Sri Lanka, considered one of the Ashtadasha Shakti Peethas (18 Shakti Peethas) and a sacred site associated with Goddess Sati. The temple is located near the Koneswaram Shiva Temple, where Lord Shiva is worshipped as Trikoneshwarar (or Koneswaram).

Gayatri Peetam (Hakgala Garden):

The Hakgala Botanical Garden is believed to be the location of Ashok Vatika, where Sita was held captive by Ravana.

Sita Amman Temple & Ashok Vatika:

This temple is also known as Seetha Eliya and is believed to be the site of Ashok Vatika, where Sita was held captive.
